If you happen by the Flanders Hotel a week from Saturday and see dozens of kids and their parents wearing those striped, crooked "Cat in the Hat" chapeaus, you might think you stumbled upon a celebration of Dr. Seuss.

You would be correct.

National Read Across America Day, also known as Dr. Seuss Day, will have an official headquarters of sorts at Ocean City's historic Flanders. A brunch celebrating the beloved childrens' author and encouraging reading will take place at the hotel on Saturday March 3 at 10 a.m.

The latest in an impressive list of Flanders special events, the Seuss shindig will include a breakfast buffet, story time and crafts — attendees can make their own Cat in the Hat lid, color Horton and his Seuss character friends, and decorate their own Red Fish and Blue fish. And of course the buffet of traditional brunch favorites will also include green eggs and ham, a nod to the famous Dr. Seuss story of the same name.

If Dr. Seuss isn't your thing, a wide array of other events are on tap at Flanders this winter, catering to all ages and interests.

Best known for hosting thousands of visitors every summer, the stately property which has graced 11th Street at the Boardwalk since 1923, re-invents itself in the off-season as an events center.

"People don't always think of us as a place where so many events are happening," said Director of Hotel Operations Peter Voudouris. "Especially this time of year."

Peter Voudouris, Director of Hotel Operations is keeping the Flanders busy in the offseason with a wide range of special events.

But happening they are. In addition to the usual business meetings and conventions, banquets and weddings, Voudouris and his crack marketing teammates Jennifer Ottaviano and Heather Callahan come up with homegrown events such as the Seuss brunch.

“We try to look at the calendar and come up with events to tie in with it. Then we plan the best way to market them.”

The fruits of their efforts include a successful series of holiday-themed high teas, a “Girl’s Weekend Out,” and an Easter Brunch which sold out last year. As a result, the hotel and its staff remain busy, even if it isn’t exactly beach weather.

Following are some other upcoming special events at the Flanders:

High Teas take place the first Thursday and third Sunday of every month in the off-season. During the summer months, they happen almost every week.

Upcoming Specialty High Teas include a Mother's Day High Tea on Sunday March 6 at 1 pm; St. Patrick's Day High Tea on Saturday March 17 at 1 p.m.; Easter High Tea on Saturday March 24 at 1 pm.

Also, Easter Brunch on Easter Sunday April 1 from 10 am to 2 pm; Girl's Weekend, April 6-9 with room discounts, special deals in the Flanders Shoppes, Salon and Spa and a free gift; Mother's Day Brunch on Sunday May 13 from 10 am to 2 pm.

The

Flanders Hotel

The Flanders retains its status as one of the region's grand hotels and a jewel of Ocean City history, Voudouris said, and it's event planning and execution extends the property's range of services to the community. It also provides opportunities to enjoy the Franders' amenities and charms without necessarily staying overnight,

"More and more we are being thought of as a place that hosts events, and we hope people will think of us as a resource that way, and not just as the Flanders Hotel," he said.
